DTTN is an open, neutral, reliable and trusted platform built and operated by the DTTN Ltd., a company jointly owned by Tradelink and the HKSAR Government. As a community infrastructure for electronic document exchanges, DTTN provides facility for share use by business entities to interconnect through a single, low-cost connection. It enables fast and efficient communications, document exchanges and information sharing, serving business large or small involved in every aspect of the supply chain, wherever they are located – be it Hong Kong, the Mainland or worldwide.

As the development of the DTTN platform is well on its way to becoming completed, and a selected group of pilot users including Exel, TAL, HAECO, HAESL, Olympus, APC, etc. will soon start using the DTTN services, we think it is an opportune time to present to Tradelink's valued customers the services and benefits of the DTTN as well as the various solutions Tradelink can offer to you in accessing the DTTN services.
